AEROPLANE TEST COMING OFF HERE

Glider About Completed at Cavalry Camp—Experiments Start Soon.

LIEUT. WINTERS IS AVIATOR

Lieihua Plains Considered Ideal Place for Flying Machine Tryout.

Aeroplane flights may be in full swing at Lieihua in the next two weeks conducted by Lieut. J. G. Winters, Fifth Cavalry, who succeeded the ill-fated Lieutenant Seifridge, who was killed at Fort Myer while experimenting with a heavier-than-air machine.

Lieutenant Winters was detailed to take a course in aviation and this included a knowledge of construction of the air fighters, as well as handling them. The material for the machine soon to be tried at Schofield Barracks was received a short time ago and the machine is nearly completed. The cloth covering is still to be laid on the framework. It will then be simply a glider, not an aeroplane, as at first the machine will not be equipped with a motor.

The machine follows the prescribed type of biplane and will be similar in appearance to the Wright machines which were used in the federal government's experiments at Fort Myer, Virginia.

Lieihua is considered an excellent aviation section owing to the ground sloping down toward the trade winds, which blow across the Wahiawa plains from the Koolau range. The machine will be taken on high ground and the experiments will be entirely in gliding to see if the machine lives up to the builder's plans in responding to the dip or elevation of the planes and the movements of the rudder. If these experiments are satisfactory a motor will be added and the machine will then be used for regulation flights.

MORMON BISHOP LEAVES FOR HOME IN SALT LAKE

BISHOP WOOLLEY.

Bishop S. E. Woolley of the Mormon Church and manager of the church's sugar plantation at Laie, departed on the Steamer yesterday, en route to his home in Salt Lake City, to remain there permanently.

The bishop stated, just before leaving, that he might not return to Hawaii, owing to his wife's poor health. He had no information to offer as to who his successor will be.

Bishop Woolley has been in Hawaii for many years and is a kamaaina. During his residence in the Islands he has lived at Laie, where he has successfully conducted the plantation, and which is the seat of Mormon influence in the Islands. There is a large Mormon settlement in the Islands, and at Laie, which, with its typical Mormon Church and broad streets, has the appearance of a village in southern Utah.

APPEAL COMES FROM SUFFERERS

Japanese Flood Victims in Need—Local Japanese Ask Local Americans to Help.

An appeal has been issued by the Flood Relief Association of Japan to the Japanese of Hawaii, asking that funds be forwarded to Tokyo to assist in relieving the immense amount of suffering throughout four provinces as a result of the floods, which yet continue. Acting under the authority of this appeal, S. Sheba, editor of the Hawaii Shimpo, asks the American people of Honolulu to assist in making this as large as possible. Mr. Sheba's open letter to the public is as follows:

An Appeal to the American People.

The Flood Relief Association recently formed at Tokyo with Marquis Matsukata as the President and Baron Shibusawa as the Vice-President has addressed the local Japanese, urging them to contribute toward the relief fund. The letter says in part:

"The damage wrought by the recent flood is so appalling and enormous that it defies description; multitudes of people in those provinces visited with the flood are homeless and starving; many have lost their wives, husbands, mothers and fathers; parents half starved are searching for their lost sons and daughters in despair; and those whose lives were spared are scourged with epidemics."

"We appeal to every man and woman who has a heart, in order that the suffering Japanese may be saved and comforted in their dire sufferings."

Authentic statistics issued from the interior department of the Japanese government shows the damages to be as follows:

Total loss of life.....1061
The number of wounded and disabled.....332
The number of lost.....380
The number of houses totally destroyed.....4783
The number of houses partially destroyed.....5560
The number of houses washed away.....5207

Pathetic and heart-breaking stories of individual suffering need not be told. The above figures tell the story. These provinces stricken with calamity include Chiba, Fukushima, Miyagi, and Niigata from where come not a small number of Japanese in Hawaii, while the latest advices from Japan state that the flood is still spreading and that the central and southern provinces are now being affected.

At different plantations, associations are being formed among us to raise funds, and there is a prospect that we local Japanese can send several thousand dollars.

Japanese as a people are not too forward. I think, in retelling stories of their own woe, but I feel, as I understand American people in general, that they would not consider it a kind act for us to do to hide from their notice these facts and the cause in which I am sure many American friends would want to extend their helping hands and to express their good will toward suffering Japanese at home as well as to us in Hawaii, who commingle in comity and in mutual helpfulness with them. GOES EAST TO RAISE THOUSANDS

A Chinese Minister Will Solicit Funds for a New Church.

Rev. Kong Ying Tet, pastor of St. Peter's Chapel of the Episcopal diocese, departed on the Steamer yesterday en route to Cincinnati where he will attend the conference of the Episcopal Church, and where he will also meet Bishop Restarick. The minister left after receiving a cablegram asking him to make the journey.

Rev. Kong Yin Tet will meet all the leading clergy of the church and will then lay plans to visit several dioceses to solicit contributions to a $15,000 fund which he expects to raise for rebuilding St. Peter's Chapel on the new location on the mauka side of Emma Square. About $5000 is to be raised in Honolulu, making a fund of $20,000. The old church building will be renovated from its present site, thereby opening out the grounds to better expose the splendid edifice of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

RECOMMENDS GENERAL COMMANDER HERE

WASHINGTON, September 21.—General Leonard Wood has made a recommendation to the President that the four military posts in the Territory of Hawaii be placed under one command. This is in line with the proposal of General Barry, recently commander of the Department of California.

REPORTED PLOT TO ASSASSINATE THE EMPEROR OF THE JAPANESE

THE EMPEROR OF JAPAN.

Tokio Yellow Journal Startled Empire Yesterday.

TOKIO, September 21.—A great sensation was created here today by the publication of the alleged details of a plot to assassinate the Emperor of Japan.

The first intimation of the unsuccessful plan to destroy the life of Japan's ruler was given the public through the details published today in the Hochi Shimbun, a notoriously yellow journal. The would-be assassins are Japanese, and they have all been apprehended. Many arrests have been made, and the government believes that it has placed in custody all those involved.

According to the Hochi, all the culprits will be executed after a trial, all the details of which will be secret.

HILO MUST BUILD NEW FIRE STATION

Present Site Belongs to Territory and Is to Be Sold by Campbell.

Hilo must move its fire station. The superintendent of public works has decreed it, and the fire ladders must pick up their hose carts and fire ladders and hike on.

The reason is that the site now occupied by the Hilo fire station belongs to the Territory and somebody else happens to want it. The telephone company and the Elks recently applied to the land commissioner to be allowed to purchase the site. The matter was referred to the advisory land board, which approved the petition and ordered it advertised.

Land Commissioner Campbell has therefore, written to Hilo telling that town that it must get out; the Territory needs the land.

But Campbell does not want to leave the fire ladders homeless. He has written that he will give the county a lot on the extension of Bridge and Shipman streets, providing the county will agree to erect there a concrete building that will do credit to the town and that will not be an eyesore from the windows of the proposed federal building.

The telephone company, on its part, has agreed to erect a reinforced concrete building, to cost not less than $25,000, on the site of the present ancient fire station.

COLORADO G. O. P. PUTS UP STEPHEN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colorado, September 21.—John Stephen was yesterday nominated as the Republican candidate for the governorship, to run against the incumbent, Governor Shafroth, who has been renominated by the Democrats. The Republicans in convention endorsed the national administration and placed a plank in their platform favoring the idea of submitting to the people on a referendum the question of passing an initiative and referendum law.

The convention also expressed its admiration for Colonel Roosevelt and endorsed the insurgent policy.

CHOLERA BREAKS OUT IN KOBE

WASHINGTON, September 21.—Official reports received here announce the appearance of cholera in Kobe.

JUSTICE UNDER A BANYAN TREE

Mahomet Robinson Goes to the Mountain When Mountain Couldn't Come to Him.

Because the mountain could not come to Mahomet, Mahomet yesterday afternoon went to the mountain.

To put it otherwise, Judge Robinson held court under the big banyan tree in the rear of the Judiciary building in order to take the testimony of an aged Hawaiian who was unable to climb the stairs to the judge's courtroom.

It was a curious and unusual sight. The old man had been brought from the Lunalihi Home in a decrepit hack, drawn by a still more decrepit horse. He was lifted out and seated in a chair on the ground. Another chair was brought out for the judge. The opposing attorneys, who were Clem Quinn and C. C. Biting, paced the turf, carefully dodging the mud puddles. Stenographer McMahon climbed into the driver's seat in the hack to take his notes. The aged horse twisted his head occasionally to listen to what Quinn was saying, and once in a while sighed gently in Clerk Simonson's left ear.

It was a divorce case that was on trial, that of the Waiwaleles. The plaintiff was a woman whose husband some time since shot and attempted to kill her. The defendant was the husband, Kamaka Waiwalele, who is now serving out a ten-year sentence in prison for that same attempt at murder. Before trying to kill his wife, Waiwalele had fled out for divorce from her. But after the commission of the crime and his conviction and sentence to jail, the woman, Kamaka, filed a cross filed in which she accused the man of unfaithfulness. Quinn represented the woman and Biting appeared for the man. Waiwalele was allowed to don his street clothes for the occasion and to appear in court unshackled, but carefully guarded.

The old man from the Lunalihi Home was brought as a witness to testify as to the defendant's relations with the daughter of that same old man. His testimony was damaging to the defendant. After he had given it he was hauled into the hack and taken back to the home.

AVIATOR BARNES MEETS WITH INJURY

FOLKESTONE, England, September 21.—Aviator Barnes fell with his machine yesterday, receiving serious injuries. When fifty feet in the air his aeroplane buckled and fell. The driver was picked up with his skull fractured.

WILL REGAIN OLD BARRACKS

Governor Intimates That National Guard May Have New Armory Soon.

The old "Household Barracks" lot, on which the drill shed and the present depot quartermaster's storehouse and offices stand may be turned back by the United States government to the Territory of Hawaii in the near future, and in anticipation of that transfer Governor Frear is making plans to ask the legislature for a liberal appropriation for an armory to house the First Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii.

Governor Frear, accompanied by Adjutant-General Jones of the national guard, and Chief Justice Hartwell of the supreme court, visited the camp of instruction for officers of the national guard yesterday, calling upon Colonel Bullard, U.S.A., chief instructor, and making an address to the assembled officers, in which he referred to the need of an armory to take the place of the battered and ill-looking drill shed to house the national guard, and the prospect of the federal government returning the barracks lot back to the Territory.

"The Governor has been working on this matter for the past three years and believes he has succeeded and that before many more months have elapsed that the title will be turned back."

In his address he stated that he was glad to see so much patriotism manifested among the officers to give up so much of their time to acquiring a knowledge of military matters to put them on a par with regular officers. He said that there was an evident increase of interest in military matters both here and on the mainland, and this is shown by the larger appropriations being made by the federal government for national guard organizations, the instruction camps and the closer relations between regulars and guardsmen.

Judge Hartwell spoke of the necessity for the officers to understand their men, and acquiring a thorough knowledge of the details of looking after property and attending to the wants of the men.

Infantry Greatest Need. Colonel Bullard has expressed the opinion that Hawaii is in need of more infantry than any other class of troops. This statement was made while the officer was giving instruction in deploying of troops, and while talking walks were being arranged. He talked considerably with reference to what might happen should an enemy attack the shores of Oahu and then mapped out probable methods of meeting such attacks.

Smoker for Bullard. On Monday evening the officers of the National Guard of Hawaii will give a smoker at the old Bungalow in honor of Colonel Bullard. This will be one of the first smokers in many years.

WYOMING DEMOCRATS NOMINATE REPUBLICAN

SHERIDAN, Wyoming, September 21.—The chances for the renomination of Congressman Mondell, representative-at-large, are now regarded as very critical. Former Senator Joseph M. Carey has been nominated for the governorship by the Democrats, although he served in the house of representatives and the senate as a Republican. He is the father of the Carey Act and the introducer of the bill that provided statehood for Wyoming. At the present time he has been leading the reform forces of the State, claiming that the Republican administration is honey-combed with graft.

JAPAN HAS TOO MUCH TRADE FOR WAR

Bishop Nitou Honda, head of the United Methodist Church of Japan, now visiting in Honolulu, put himself on record while in Los Angeles, as to the possibility of war between Japan and the United States. He said that unscrupulous writers and talkers had been trying to foster the idea that such a thing was possible, but he disavowed most vigorously.

"Japan," he said, "could not so far forget her great debt to America as to consider such action for a moment." His nation, he declared, is at peace with the world and desires to remain so. He pointed out that one-fourth of the total business between Japan and foreign countries is with the United States, and would selfishness, if for no other reason, preclude the idea of conflict. He also said that the heart of Japan is still sore from the dark contest with Russia, and that thousands of widows and orphans remind his country of that phase of war which most deeply affected a nation's happiness.

MAJORITY AGAINST TAWNEY.

ST. PAUL, Minnesota, September 21.—Complete returns from the primaries held yesterday show that Congressman Tawney was defeated for renomination by over 2000 votes. All the other Republican incumbents were renominated.

SCANDAL REVIVED TO HARASS COLONEL

Bellamy Storer Incident Crops Up With Some New Light on the Subject.

IRELAND'S LETTER QUOTED

Correspondence from Archbishop Says Roosevelt Did Give Storer His Orders.

SPRINGFIELD, Massachusetts, September 22.—That Theodore Roosevelt, while President, instructed Bellamy Storer, whom he had appointed Ambassador to Austria, to ask the Pope to elevate Archbishop Ireland to the rank of cardinal, in spite of Roosevelt's repeated denials to the contrary, is the claim made by the Springfield Republican, which has revived the old controversy by the publication yesterday of some new evidence.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND, Who becomes the storm center in a revived controversy.

The Republican reprints a review of the case written by Mrs. Bellamy Storer, dated September 6, in which she reiterates the charge of unfair treatment on the part of Roosevelt; in recalling Storer for doing what he had been specifically instructed to do. She claims that Roosevelt sent her husband to Vienna that he might interview the Pope on Archbishop Ireland's behalf as the personal representative of the President.

Storer was recalled in disgrace in 1906 when complaints were made that he was visiting the Pope and claiming to be President Roosevelt's agent, the President at that time denying that he had ever instructed the ambassador to speak for him. In an official communication to the congress, Roosevelt denounced as not only liars, but absurd liars, both Ambassador Storer and his wife.

UNCLE JOE CANNON A TARIFF ADMIRER

Declares Present Agitation Is Only Hurting the Prosperity of the Country.

DANVILLE, Illinois, September 22.—Speaker Cannon, in an address here, accepting his twentieth nomination for the house, said that the Aldrich-Payne Tariff required no defenders and called for no defense. The passage of the present tariff law had justified itself already by the increased revenues it had produced and by the figures showing the increased imports under it.

The Speaker declared that the present agitation against the tariff and the demand raised throughout the country for a modification of some of the schedules was dangerous to the commercial prosperity of the country.

ROOSEVELT GETS ANOTHER VICTORY

NEW YORK, September 22.—The Roosevelt supporters have carried Schenectady in the primaries to elect delegates for the State convention. This is regarded as a great victory against the Old Guard, who have counted on getting their majority from the up-State districts.
